Police Say Couple Found in Boat Explosion Wreckage Killed with Hammer.

By The Associated Press

SANTA ANA, Calif., March 21 — A theory that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, wealthy socialites, were slain with a ball peen hammer aboard their power cruiser before an explosion wrecked the craft in fashionable Newport harbor Saturday was advanced today by the sheriff's office.

Sheriff James Musick said he planned to file a murder charge today against George R. Gollum, 21, fiance of the Overells' coed daughter, Beulah Louise, 17, heiress to their reported $600,000 fortune, and possibly against the girl.

The young people, who were aboard the yacht until shortly before the explosion, were arrested Wednesday, booked for murder without the filing of formal charges, and were still held in jail today. Beulah Louise, a freshman journalism student at University of Southern California, and Gollum pre-medical student at Los Angeles City college, had planned to be married April 30, her 18th birthday.

The explosion was first attributed to gasoline, but after the yacht, the May E, was raised investigators found 31 sticks of unexploded dynamite, a detonator and wired clock aboard it.

Sheriff Musick said reports by Capt. Thomas McGaff, chief of the Orange county sheriff's bureau of identification, and Dr. John Montanus, autopsy surgeon led to his theory that Overell, 62, finance company operator, and his wife, 57, were slain.

GOVERNMENT FOR GERMANY URGED BY U.S.

Marshall Calls on Big 4 To Set Up System Soon.

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 21 — U. S. Secretary Marshall called on the council of foreign ministers today to set plans for the creation of a German government in motion at once and both he and Britain's Ernest Bevin presented programs for the organization of a federalized German nation.

The council, in a brief session agreed to invite representatives of the Austrian government here immediately for discussion of the Austrian peace treaty.

V. M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister, said he already had assured Foreign Minister Karl Gruber, of Austria, that visas would be issued for the Austrians assigned to come to Moscow.

Hopes Treaty Can Be Signed

The action on Austria came after Marshall had urged the council to break the Austrian treaty impasse on what constitutes German assets in that country and had expressed hope that the treaty would be complete in the Moscow meeting.

He said that it was for this purpose—completing the treaty—that the Austrian government representatives should be called into consultation.

Bevin laid before the council a six-step plan for the creation of a federalized government structure intended to make Germany a self-governing democratic state.

Marshall laid down a three-point plan of procedure for setting up a German government.

Britain's views on the government structure for Germany were set forth in a 600-word paper.

It called for creation of a two-

OHIO PHONE WORKERS VOTE TO JOIN STRIKE

May Walk Out Along with Others in U. S. April 7.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 21 — Approximately 10,000 members of the Ohio Federation of Telephone Workers (IND) have voted to join a national strike, if necessary, Earl Culp, education director for the federation, announced today.

Operators, plant workers and commercial employes voted "overwhelmingly" to empower the National Federation of Telephone Workers to call a strike in support of demand for $12 a week wage increases and other items, said Culp.

April 7 has been set as a deadline for the strike by the national federation.

The Ohio Federation holds bargaining rights for employes of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., with the exception of plant workers in the southwestern part of the state.

SENATOR CALLS FOR EXTENDED FOOD CURB

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21 — Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said today the cost of living at home "will rise even higher and more hungry nations may move closer to Communism" unless congress extends wartime powers over scarce foods and commodities.

Aiken offered these forecasts as the senate agricultural committee called upon government witnesses to amplify the administration's request for continuing the allocation programs scheduled to expire 10 days hence.

These include sugar rationing and the authority to specify amounts of grains, fats and oils used by various food and beverage producers. However, separate legislation to continue sugar rationing is being considerd by another senate committee, the banking group.

The Vermont Republican told a reporter he believes the sharp climb of wheat prices in recent months has been caused "by speculators who hope that congress will allow these domestic allocations to die along with export controls."

U. S., Britain Cut Steel Shipments to Soviets

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, March 21 — A joint British-American announcement said today that British and American authorities had sharply reduced shipments of German iron and steel to the Soviet zone and were considering a total embargo because the Russian zone has failed to fulfill terms of a trade agreement.

The joint statement said the Soviet zone was lagging far behind its commitments under the agreement with the combined American-British zone to deliver foodstuffs and various other materials in exchange for steel and iron.

On the other hand, the statement said, deliveries of iron and steel up to the end of February had fulfilled 95 per cent of the British-American commitment.

"This failure (of the Russians) has placed the United States-British zone in an extremely difficult position," the statement asserted.

A report from Menden, headquarters of the British-American economic control group for the two western zones, said an embargo on all shipments of pig iron, steel and standard iron and steel products to the Russian zone had been ordered effective today.

But this report could not be confirmed officially until further conferences were held between British and American officials.

West Virginia Seen Luring Ohio Teachers

By The Associated Press

MARTINS FERRY, O., March 21—Because West Virginia now offers teachers more money, C. A. Taylor, Martins Ferry school superintendent, thinks Ohio may lose many of its own to the neighboring state.

Taylor said that he feared recent action of the West Virginia legislature, increasing state school aid by 66 per cent, would lure Buckeye pedagogues across the Ohio river.

30 Per Cent Tax Cut Gets House Committee Okay

Committee Votes To Withhold U. S. Conciliation Service Funds

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—The house appropriations committee voted today to knock the financial props from under the United States conciliation service by refusing to pay for Director Edgar L. Warren and a number of top aides.

Climaxing a long feud between Warren and Rep. Keefe (R-Wis), the action highlighted a $1,685,586,780 bill to finance the labor department and the federal security agency for the year starting July 1.

The measure will be debated in the house next week.

Keefe is chairman of the subcommittee which drafted the bill. He has accused Warren of having been affiliated in the past with "Communist-inspired fronts" and of having advocated the right of government workers to strike.

Denies Red Charge

The conciliation chief denied knowledge of any Communist sponsorship of the groups when he joined them and told the committee he has changed his mind about the right of federal workers to strike.

In addition to its blow to the conciliation service, which provides federal mediators in labor disputes, the committee also cut by nearly 50 per cent the money President Truman asked for the national labor relations board.

In granting the NLRB only $4,033,700 of the $7,984,000 requested, the committee said it was split over a suggestion that the board be abolished because it "has made no real contribution to industrial peace."

The NLRB administers the Wagner collective bargaining act.

While carrying $366,170,877 more than comparable appropriations for the current year, the total of today's bill is $77,825,520—or less than five per cent—below Mr. Truman's budget estimates.

However, except for one large item, the funds recommended for next year generally are below those allotted for this year. The outstanding exception is an increase of $369,170,277 in the railroad retirement board fund, an uncontrollable allotment that does not come out of general revenues.

Cancer Fund Exception

Another exception is the $17,328,200 granted to the National Cancer Institute, an increase of $6,000,000 over budget estimates to allow for more aid to states and more research work.

The labor department's share of the total is $90,804,200, a cut of $12,714,800 from budget figures and $42,816,091 from this year's allotments. The total includes $71,728,000 for grants to state for public employment offices. It also includes the $2,080,000 allotted to the conciliation service, a $598,400 drop from the budget request.

The federal security agency received $890,045,180, a budget cut of $61,123,420 and a reduction of $132,932 from current funds.

Along with the NLRB fund, the bill also carries $850,700 for the national mediation board which handles railroad labor problems, a cut of $37,300 below the budget and $690,793,000 for the railroad retirement board.

"NO WAR RISK." Appearing before the house foreign affairs committee in Washington, D. C., acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson declares there is no possibility that President Truman's anti-Communist program of aid to Greece and Turkey can lead to war (International).

CIO ASKS GM FOR PAY BOOST

Request 23½ Cents More Per Hour, Social Security Grants.

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 21—The CIO United Auto Workers today formally asked General Motors corporation for a 23½-cent hourly wage increase for an estimated 225,000 GM production workers.

Union spokesmen said the proposed boost would bring the average wage of the company's production workers to $1.56½ an hour and would cost GM about $2,115,000 a week.

UAW sources based their computation on reports that GM workers now average $1.33 an hour. Some other sources set the earnings at $1.31.

March 19 Effective Date

GM was asked to grant the wage increase effective as of March 19, although the UAM-GM contract provides that no wage increase can be put into effect before May 31 without mutual consent of the two parties.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president and co-director of the union's GM department, presented the proposals to GM officials at Detroit today by proxy.

Other principal demands the UAW served on GM were:

1. Equal pay for equal work—this involves an equalization fund to be utilized to adjust wage rates based on the principle of equal pay for equal work.

2. Social security—an employer financed retirement program for GM workers, which shall include death and survivors' benefits, disability benefits in the event of disabling sickness, injury or disease, and hospital, surgical, medical and maternity benefits.

3. Retirement program—establishment of an employer-financed retirement program for General Motors to supplement federal social security provisions, "which are inadequate both in terms of the eligibility age and benefit amounts."

4. A guaranteed 40-hour work week.

5. Adjustments of the vacation clauses of the present contract, with special emphasis on getting additional vacation time for returned veterans.

Regrets Company Refusal

Reutner, in announcing details of the program, told GM, "we regret the refusal of the corporation to cooperate with the union in a joint study of this (retirement program) problem."

The UAW asked GM to set an early date for beginning of discussions on the demands.

Spring Arrives But Snow Gives Chilly Reception

Spring came to Marion today at 9:14 a. m., bringing with it intermittent snow flurries and a temperature slightly above the freezing mark.

It didn't look like spring, but the calendar said it was. The weatherman came up with a reassuring forecast of clearing weather and moderate temperature for tomorrow.

The local weather observer recorded .01 inch snowfall yesterday and a high of 43 degrees and a low of 32. The temperature at noon today was 38. A year ago yesterday the high was 67 and low 34.

The nation generally had a fresh, warm welcome for the first season of the year, The Associated Press reported.

Generally fair weather prevailed over virtually the entire country, the U. S. weather bureau reported. However, cloudy weather and light snow covered an area comprising Wisconsin and Illinois eastward into Ohio. Temperatures generally were moderate and near or slightly below the seasonal normal.

But the departing winter will be remembered in many sections of the country as generally disagreeable.

It started off mildly enough, with almost balmy weather in December, except for a frigid spell between Christmas and New Year's day. In January things got so freakish that much of the nation was uncertain whether to wear earmuffs or straw hats.

There was an end-of-January storm that brought snow, hail, thunder and lightning to the midwest. February wasn't much better. New England and northern New York communities were buried for days in heavy snow storms that made roads impassable, paralyzed traffic, stalled trains and isolated many persons in their homes.

SHOWDOWN SET FOR THURSDAY

Ways and Means Group Sends Measure to Floor for Drag-Out Fight.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—The house ways and means committee today approved, 16 to 9, the Republican backed bill to slash income taxes by 30 per cent for the small taxpayers and by 20 per cent for most others.

The legislation thus was headed for the house floor for a showdown next Thursday. The committee vote virtually followed party lines.

Before approving the measure, the committee rejected, 15 to 10, a motion by Rep. Doughton (D-NC) to postpone tax considerations "until we know what our foreign and other commitments will be" in connection with recent world developments.

The tax cut, under the legislation authorized by ways and means Chairman Knutson (R-Minn), would be effective as of last Jan. 1.

Withholding Tax Cut

Withholding from wages and salaries under the pay-as-you-go system would be slashed to conform with the tax reduction effective June 1. Taxpayers would get rebates for any overpayments between January and June under the new rates.

The bill provides an overall $3,640,000,000 slash from the present individual tax collections of about $16,000,000,000 annually.

In the committee voting, one Democrat joined 15 Republicans in supporting the legislation. His name was not immediately disclosed.

Knutson predicted the house will approve the legislation by a comfortable margin, although Democrats on the committee organized their ranks for a last ditch battle.

They met with Democratic Floor Leader Sam Rayburn as the Republican-controlled committee went into session to approve a bill calling for a 30 per cent slash for small taxpayers and a 20 per cent cut for most others.

Rayburn told newsmen following the Democrats' meeting that they felt the entire matter of tax reduction should be deferred until congress has a better idea of the nation's fiscal situation and how much money will be appropriated.

Will Be Democratic Stand

"That will be the attitude of Democrats in the committee and in the house," he commented.

The Republicans counted on their five-man majority in the committee—made up of 15 Republicans and 10 Democrats—to drive through the income tax cut bill.

As approved by the Republican house steering committee yesterday the bill gives a 30 per cent income tax slash to low-bracket taxpayers and a 20 per cent cut to most others. The original tax-cutting legislation was proposed by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the committee.

Last-Minute Revision

The bill is a last-minute revision, ordered by the house Republican high command yesterday, of Knutson's original proposal for a 20 per cent cut across the board for all taxpayers with incomes up to $302,000.

The change favoring small taxpayers failed to satisfy Rep. Doughton (D-NC), Democratic dean of the ways and means committee, who called it "a political move." He reiterated to reporters this assertion that tax-cutting should wait "until we know what our commitments and expenses will be" under new international developments.

The compromise would give more than a 20 per cent reduction to about 21,000,000 of the 46,000,000 income tax payers.

FLU CASES ON INCREASE HERE

Health Director Says Peak Not Reached; Advises Against Crowds.

The influenza epidemic in Marion has seemingly not reached the peak as yet, while a report for the state showed that the epidemic was on the wane. The latter report was received in an Associated Press dispatch.

Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner, reported that through contacts with other physicians of the city, influenza cases are increasing, and he advises people to refrain from attending public gatherings such as theaters or meetings. He also said that the Marion city schools, which have been closed the entire week, will reopen Monday and it will be determined then whether or not the schools will remain in session.

Two more Marion county schools, Caledonia and Green Camp, were closed late yesterday afternoon as absences continued to increase, making a total of eight county schools which were closed for the remainder of the week. This report was received from the office of D. T. Mills, county school superintendent. The other six schools closed are Pleasant township, Prospect, Grand Prairie, Morral, Kirkpatrick and Meeker.

Green Camp school, which had been closed last Thursday and Friday due largely to the absence of teachers, had reopened again this week.

The county schools and St. Mary Parochial school, which has also been closed, along with the city schools, will open Monday morning. The Radnor school in Delaware county and the Galion schools, which closed during the week, will also reopen Monday.

State Situation Improves

Although many schools in the state still are closed, abatement in the spread of the disease was reported from scattered sections and large metropolitan areas said their cases were decreasing in number.

The only sure way to rout the scourge of influenza and severe colds, and to lessen the number of student absentees, said State Health Director, Dr. Roger Heering, is a self-enforced program of semi-isolation.

"The fewer persons with whom those susceptible to influenza come in contact, the better off they'll be. All children should be kept from public gatherings," he explained.

Cities like Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, and Toledo reported the illness was slowly—but surely—losing its grip there.

East Liverpool's absentees had dropped 10 per cent bringing a "not too bad" comment from Supt. W. G. Fordyce.

New closings yesterday, all until at least Monday, were reported at Circleville, Union, Hebron, Columbiana, Bellaire, Bethesda and Martins Ferry.

TRAFFIC CODE FOR BUCYRUS STUDIED

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 21—Bucyrus city council Tuesday night made a further study of local traffic problems, voting to delay passage of a code now under consideration until a personal inspection of traffic conditions can be made by council members.

Council also took under consideration a proposal to reduce overtime parking fines to 25 cents when paid within the hour, received a report of recent civil service examinations for city firemen and patrolmen and heard a request for $1,000 with which to operate the city's ball parks next season. Legislation was authorized for the purchase of new equipment at city hospital and the issuance of $5,000 in bonds for such purchases.

The proposal to reduce overtime parking fines was presented by Mayor R L Hertzer who said the plan had been meeting with favor in nearby cities.

Two new traffic lights were recommended, one at East Mansfield and Iron streets and the other just east of the underpass on East Mansfield street.

In the report of the recent civil service examinations, council was advised that four men had qualified as regular patrolmen, two had qualified as police lieutenants, two for regular firemen and two for firemen lieutenants. Two lieutenants are to be appointed in each department, appointments to be made by Safety Director John Carroll.

T S Heinlen, parking meter maintenance man, was the only applicant to qualify for that position.

Those qualifying were Donald Ghist, Paul Long, Richard Kelly and David Denzer, for regular policemen, Charles Ghist and Charles Robertson for police lieutenants, Alonzo Meyers and James Wayne Crum for regular firemen, and Robert Gehringer and Fred Solre, firemen lieutenants.

C. OF C. HIT FOR STAND ON SCHOOLS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, March 21 — A sharp suggestion that the Ohio Chamber of Commerce "might well examine the state's educational crisis" before tossing verbal brickbats at the governor's budget proposals for the 1947-48 biennial was added to the record today.

Executive Secretary Walter G. O'Donnell, speaking for the Ohio Friends of Public Schools, commended Gov Thomas J. Herbert's request for increased appropriations which the Chamber criticized in press releases early this week as "excessive."

The OFPS official then asserted that "the economics that has afflicted the Ohio Chamber of Commerce during the past decade • • • is among the chief causes of the present predicament of the public schools."

He said that a "look • • • should reveal (to the Chamber) the eventual effects upon business of a presistent short-changing of the teachers and children of Ohio's public schools."

Record Crops To Continue

U. S. Survey Indicates More Bumper Outputs for Next Season.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—The agriculture department handed out cheerful news today to Americans hoping for lower food prices and to war-suffering foreigners who will need large amounts of American food for another year.

A department survey of farmers' planting intentions indicated that growers will continue to produce at record wartime levels. In fact, if farm plans are carried out, the total crop acreage will be larger than in the last two bumper seasons.

A less favorable picture of production plans might well have dashed consumer hopes for price relief and put overseas shortage areas on notice that they could expect less from this country.

Perhaps the brightest spot in the report was a forecast that a record wheat crop of 1,212,000,000 bushels may be grown. This would top last year's record by about 57,000,000 bushels and the 1935-44 average by 369,000,000 bushels.

Another 3,000,000,000 — bushel corn crop also appears likely. This grain is needed for producing meats, dairy and poultry products.

Crops which may exceed goals include wheat, oats, rice, tobacco, dry beans and peanuts. Those which may fall slightly below goals include corn, barley, flaxseed, sorghums, potatoes, sweet potatoes, dry beans, soybeans, and sugar beets.

Influenced by the government's desire to avoid another potato surplus, growers indicated they will plant 12 per cent less than last year. When 1946 production exceeded demands by 100,000,000 bushels it cost the department $80,000,000 in price support aid and surplus removal operations.

RUBBER UNION, FIRMS HINT STRIKE TRUCE

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 21—Union and company officials of the "Big Four" producers of the nation's rubber hinted strongly today that there was still a fair chance of averting a strike set for Sunday midnight.

Leaders of the CIO-United Rubber Workers disclosed that they hadn't given up on the idea of a peaceful settlement of the wage controversy by scheduling a meeting in Cleveland tomorrow.

And L. M. Buckingham, attorney representing the four giant rubber producers, said at the same time: "I am hopeful that the union and the companies will settle this."

He spoke for B. F. Goodrich, Firestone Tire and Rubber, Goodyear Tire and Rubber and U. S. Rubber—makers of about 90 per cent of all original equipment tires for automobile manufacturers.

TAFT REJECTS CIO BID TO OUST AIDE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21 — Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) bluntly rejected today a CIO demand that Gerard D. Reilly be ousted from his job as a senate labor committee consultant.

The complaint against the former member of the national labor relations board came from CIO President Philip Murray. He contended that Reilly was a "known and demonstrated animus toward organized labor."

Taft replied:

'Mr. Murray does not seem to realize that the time has gone by when the CIO can hope to dominate the executive or the legislative branch of the government."

Murrays' demand brought to light that the senate committee divided over the hiring of Reilly two weeks ago to help with an analysis of pending bills to change the labor laws.

Explain Japs' India Failure

Secret Papers Reveal Story of Difficulties Back in 1942.

By The United Press

TOKYO—In discussing future aggressive policies in January, 1942, Japanese leaders expressed "great restraint" when referring to war against India.

That is the gist of a secret message sent from the German embassy in Tokyo to the German foreign office in Berlin, made public at the war crimes trials here.

Japanese military men told the Germans that they could not proceed against India and Australia at the same time, but must pause after the conquest of Singapore and Burma since "the push toward the south is more important and of greater use."

The Indian National Congress is opposed to Japan, the Germans were informed.

"Indian nationalism, even in the case of a successful revolution would not be able to establish an independent, orderly state," it was said in those days when Japan had reached the height of her military power.

The German message said the Japanese had pointed out that "the control of such a huge area, with 400,000,000 inhabitants, would hardly be possible for Japan, along with her other numerous difficult tasks."

Therefore, the Axis powers concluded, "Under these circumstances, the danger exists that India will fall prey to bolshevism."

Plans Against Russia

The German embassy here informed Berlin in January, 1942, according to the document, that Japan was pressing military preparations in Manchuria against Russia.

"Influential circles here," continued the diplomatic message, "defend the viewpoint that Japan must turn on Russia after the conquest of Port Darwin (Australia) and must seize Vladivostok, the coastal province, and North Sakhalin, in order to finally secure herself in the north also."

Judging from the statements made to the Diet that "victorious" month by Prime Minister Hideki Tojo and Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo, the German embassy cabled Berlin the following outline of Japan's goal in Asia and the Pacific:

1. Japan, Manchukuo and Nanking-China to form the core of the "inner organization."
2. Hong Kong and the Malay Peninsula to form Japanese military bastions for her "new order."
3. The creation of an "independent" Phillippines and Burma "according to the Manchukuo pattern."
4. The conquering by force of Chunking-China, Australia and the Netherlands East Indies.
5. Placing all Asia under Japanese economic control.
6. Seizing parts of Soviet Asia.

Two Trucks Damaged In Crash Near Ashley

Two trucks, one a semi-trailer, were involved in an accident at 7:50 p. m. yesterday one mile south of Ashley on route 42, the state highway patrol reported.

One truck owned by Salter Manufacturing Co. of Marysville and driven by Ray T. Jones of Delaware, was out of gas and parked partially off the road. The other, owned by Fishback Trucking of Akron and driven by Joseph Waters of Cincinnati, was headed south and hit the parked truck. It had been loaded with brass fittings which were scattered throughout the area.

Damage to the machines was estimated at $2,500 but their were no serious injuries.

Tung nut production in the United States increased from less than one ton in 1924 to 47,300 tons in 1946.

Girl Turns in False Fire Alarm to Police

A false alarm was turned in through the police station yesterday at 3:41 p. m. by an unidentified young girl according to Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt. It was a George street address and the youngster hung up before the desk clerk at the police station could queston her, the chief said.

This morning at 10:10 a. m. firemen were called to the Sinclair refining station at the corner of Silver and Chester streets. A valve of a gas tank had been left open and considerable gasoline had leaked to the ground. The line car answered the call and flushed the gas into a sewer.

Boy, 5, Escapes Serious Injury in Fall from Car

A five-year-old boy escaped serious injury late yesterday afternoon when he fell from a moving automobile about three miles south of Marion on Route 23. He is Jack Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Klingler of 556 Pearl street.

The car was driven by Mrs. Klingler. She said today that the boy had apparently opened the door by pulling the handle. A passing motorist from Columbus brought them in to City hospital where the boy was examined for possible head injuries. However, he was reported not seriously injured and was removed to his home this morning.

bank counter. This unnerved the holdup men, but they fidgeted the pistol back together.

"Get the money, get the money," they kept demanding of Kirk.

Then Cashier Dick dashed out the back door and as it slammed the attention of the robbers was diverted. President Kirk ducked under a counter.

"Where's he going? What's he doing?" the gunmen inquired about the absent cashier.

Their nerve began to flag and then one gunman, in desperation, demanded that his partner grab Kirkpatrick's wristwatch. The partner had difficulty trying to get behind the counter.

By this time, however, nervousness had completely overtaken the pair and they dashed out the door to their car.

Kirkpatrick sped after them and obtained a description of the vehicle as it sped away.

Surrender Peacefully

Police Chief Clark of London said he and Officer William Keefer met the gunmen as they sped up to the barricade and that they surrendered without offering resistance.

The barricade was erected after the police heard a state highway patrol radio broadcast.

"They were very surly," Clark said, "and said they couldn't explain why they tried to rob the bank."

The trio was turned over to Sheriff Charles Radcliff of Pickaway county and will be taken to the Circleville jail.

FARM FLYBOYS HEAR PROMISE

O.S.U. Tells Rural Airman Tests of Planes' Usefulness on Farm Set.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 21 — Ohio's farmer flyboys—and there were 138 of them at the last count — heard a promise today that Ohio State university's college of agriculture would try to find out how many things the airplane could do for the farm.

However, C. S. Hutchison, junior dean who admits he never has been off the ground, told them that for a while at least the airplane was mainly a source of recreation and of specialized use in dusting large plantings with bug and weed-killers. It is too expensive for shipping produce, he said.

Hold First Meeting

Most of the 138 members of the organization, Ohio's Flying Farmers, were expected here today for their first meeting in conjunction with the university's 35th annual Farm and Home week, which closes today. Many had planned to fly in, but uncertain weather was expected to ground most of the ships.

William Grimes of Delaware, vice president of the group, said demands for new ships with heavier pay loads, lower landing speeds, and removable seats would be given to representatives of plane companies in a forum this afternoon.

"Above all," he said, "we want safe flying and more and better use for planes."

Better Sprays Needed

Hutchison, in his prepared talk, said more selective insecticides and weed-killing chemicals must be made before the average farmer could count on full use of the airplane for dusting. However, he reported, the big tomato, celery, and onion fields of northern Ohio are experimenting along those lines.

Hutchison invited the organization to keep the college of agriculture posted on members' own experiments and experiences with airplanes, so that the faculty could work out courses to teach future farmers what they need to know about flying.

The entomology department said it had made a film showing the application of DDT by plane for control of the Japanese beetle near Newark. The agronomy department suggested investigating seeding, fertilizing and mulching by air.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's text: "No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despite the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon." Matt. 6:24.

* * *

IN THE light of the above text we therefore conclude that some people serve mammon, the world. The world is their master.

Some people try to serve both God and mammon. They can't do this. You can no more do this than you can make a statement both true and false. God is your Master; if not, then the world is your master.

God should be our Master because Mammon has no claim upon us. We are in the world, but we are under no obligation to the world. Mammon has never done anything for us. The world offers us nothing for our service.

God is our Father. He is not only worthy of our service, but we owe Him our service. He is a good Master and pays us in the blessings which are eternal.

TEACHERS JOIN 500 STRIKING STUDENTS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, March 21 — A number of teachers were lined up with 500 striking students today against the North College Hill board of education's decision to terminate the contract of Supt. William A. Cook.

"Seventeen or 18 of the teachers" will leave the school system with Dr. Cook if his contract is not renewed July 31, Miss Amelia Dipilla, president of the North College Hill Teachers association, predicted yesterday.

On Wednesday most of the junior and senior high school students quit their classes, and since then only a few boys and girls have passed through pupil picket lines and groups of marching students to enter the school.

Leo J. Harrison, board president, said the board would not reverse its 3-2 decision to oust Dr. Cook, whom he accused of insubordination, lack of cooperation and "attempting to set himself up as a dictator in hiring teachers."

Dr. Cook, who has continued on his job, declared: "Surely something is wrong somewhere when 29 out of 30 lay teachers threaten the board with a walkout."

The school improvement association petitioned the common pleas court to prevent the board from vacating the superintendency.

OHIO BUC TURNOVER CALLED DANGEROUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 21 — The state advisory council of the bureau of unemployment compensation pointed to a 90 per cent turnover in bureau personnel in 1946 and warned today that the present low-salary scale in the agency is "fraught with disastrous possibilities" for the unemployment compensation program in Ohio.

"While it is to be expected that a certain amount of labor turnover is inevitable," the advisory council report said, "the wholesale exodus from the bureau is due almost entirely to the disparity between Ohio civil service salaries on the one hand and those payable under the federal civil service and by private business on the other."

The federal government contributed to a "steady deterioration of morale," among bureau employes, the council claimed, by cutting administration funds for the bureau, necessitating dismissal in February of approximately 400 workers.

Total employment in the unemployment compensation division of the bureau was 1,736 at the beginning of 1946, and by Nov. 15 of that year 1,578 persons had left their jobs, the council said, adding that "the flight from the bureau continues."

The council urged legislative action which would make possible appropriation by the state legislature of funds derived through the federal payroll tax of .3 of one per cent on Ohio employers for administrative costs of unemployment compensation.

The Reparations Fallacy

RUSSIA'S insistence on the payment of $10,000,000,000 in reparations by Germany shows that the Soviets still think of peace treaties in outmoded terms. In olden times when a king lost a war he had to ante up so many bags of gold, so many tares of wheat, and so many head of cattle. But in modern warfare reparations are delusions.

Wars come to an end when one side is exhausted, and no loser can compensate a winner for his losses. It's all the loser can do to keep body and soul together. As for the victor snatching an astronomical figure out of the air and demanding payment in that amount, it just can't be done. It wasn't done after World War I and it will not be done now.

Russia first elected to take its reparations in the form of industrial equipment, but the plan has proved to be self-defeating. With transportation difficulties, obsolescence and German sabotage, what equipment finally arrived in Russia was virtually useless.

Russia's second plan, to take reparations from current production, has proved futile, too, because dismantled plants produce no goods. Any future plans for reparations from current production must yield precedence to three indispensable priorities: Occupation costs, the necessity for providing the essentials for Germany's own survival, and the imports to provide production materials. Thus, current productions will be heavily mortgaged for years to come.

The only "reparations" Russia can count on are territorial grants and utilization of German manpower on its own projects. Beyond that, reparations are a figment of the imagination and the Russians, who pride themselves on their realistic outlook, should recognize that fact.

Georgia Redeems Itself

THE RULING of Georgia's supreme court that Lieutenant Governor M. E. Thompson is the lawful head of the government and its prompt acceptance by Herman Talmadge have redeemed the battered reputation of a state that deserved better from its politicians.

Former Georgia Governor Ellis Arnall in his lecture tour since the Talmadge coup d'etat has been predicting exactly this outcome of the quarrel over succession to the governorship. Arnall has pointed out that the supreme court's ruling against Talmadge had to be virtually automatic, because the state constitution was clear on the point of succession. The ruling was somewhat less than automatic when it came, however—5 to 2 against Talmadge.

Meanwhile, the Georgia tangle has moved other states to look into the possibilities of similar confusion in their own laws of succession. The Ohio senate has approved a proposal for a constitutional amendment specifying that if a governor-elect dies between election day and inauguration day, his term would be served by the lieutenant governor-elect, the arrangement now recognized as proper by the Georgia supreme court.

The Decision Is Made

IT IS unfortunate, from the standpoint of public understanding, that the question of assistance for Greece and Turkey was raised by President Truman as if the answer hadn't already been given.

Congress is not going to decide whether to give or to withhold aid; that decision already has been made. It was made during the war, when the United States assisted both countries. Assistance also has been given since the end of the war.

Congress is going to decide what monetary limit shall be placed on assistance. Indirectly, it also will help to decide, through expressions of congressional opinion, how far the state department, the war and navy departments and the White House itself safely can go in carrying out executive policies. Here again, as happened so many times before, congress is being asked to confirm executive decisions already made.

The United States Navy is demonstrating its power in the Mediterranean. Paul Porter has been to Greece as a special observer for President Truman. This government has been committed by a presidential statement to a policy of intervention in Greece and Turkey which congress could not reverse even if it wished to do so.

The United States is not making a dicision, but dealing with the consequences of a decision. The question is not whether there shall be American intervention in Mediterranean countries, but whether the intervention already in progress shall be implemented with upward of a half-billion dollars in direct appropriations.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Yalta Bobs Up To Plague U. S. Delegation.

WASHINGTON, March 21—The American news dispatches from the Moscow conference said our delegation was "embarrassed" and "the Americans shifted uneasily in their seats" when Molotov pulled from the secret files of the past, the Yalta agreement, promising Russia half of $20,000,000,000 reparations from Germany. There was no valid reason for any reasonable person to be embarrassed or uneasy.

The truth is Russia has probably already taken more than her allotted half—more than $10,000,000,000 of the dollar value at the time of the Yalta agreement. You, who have read these dispatches, know she took the paper off German walls, machinery which we had to recapture to run the Berlin subway, everything she could lay her hands on. German machinery is today strewn out all over Russian railroad sidings. The inept Russians have merely made it lose its value by putting it to little or no use, because it can be no more valuable to anyone than the sum total of what it produces. Of course no one outside Russia knows the itemized list of it, items taken secretly as they were, behind the iron curtain of censorship. But certainly any baby knows enough was taken to keep anyone from being embarrassed about reparations, unless Russia wishes to be embarrassed and open East Germany to make some accounting.

The astonishing phase is our "uneasy" and "embarrassed" delegation made no mention of this matter, did not demand opening of East Germany to find out how much has been taken or make any accusations. (Our military has some of the facts.)

Secret Story

The inside reason for this strange omission of the plain facts of reparations looting to date is possibly due to a quite secret story, current in our official quarters, as to the nature of the Yalta conference. Mr. Roosevelt is supposed to have been somewhat ill, as was also Mr. Churchill. It was once said Mr. Roosevelt forgot to have a copy made of the Yalta agreements, and a government official once told me, the agreement at Yalta was recorded in American files only by certain personal notes of James Byrnes (then an unofficial adviser) which he made for his own use and placed in the safe at his home. Once Byrnes is supposed to have been sent to his South Carolina residence hurriedly by Mr. Roosevelt to find out what Mr. Roosevelt did agree to at Yalta. The American delegation at Moscow may have known this inside story and felt some embarrassment about the entire subject for this reason.

General Marshall, at any rate, made an adequate legal and diplomatic answer to Molotov by pointing out that Potsdam superceded and nullified Yalta (this is plainly true). However his was a sort of defensive answer, and if he had raised the question of how much the Russians have already looted out of Germany he would have put them on the defensive. Personally I would have raised that question and required the Russians at least to come forward with public acknowledgement of what they have done.

Embarrassment Explained

The Russians are getting away similarly with many delusions on the American public—and this may further explain our embarrassment in Moscow. The key delusion behind all this may be the fact that most of the American people believe Russia has lifted one porthole in the iron curtain to let the world see freely without censorship its own conference. In a way it has. Yet the whole (unproclaimed) truth is the American newsmen must use Russian facilities to get out their news, Russian telephones, telegraph instruments, radio—all manned by Russians. The Russian government which controls all these instruments knows instantly every word sent out by the conference if not before. No words have been deleted the last check I made (this week.) Indeed one reporter asked Russians on the street for a story of what they thought about the conference, which seemed to be a slight transgression on Russian generosity in letting the world know what its representatives were doing in Russia. But the overall truth of the matter is that in Moscow a reporter might have ideas he would regret having had once he gets home. I heard a great leader once say he used to go out to California annually and make great decisions swiftly in the balmy air there. But when he came back to New York and started thinking his decisions over, he changed every one of them back to his original idea. Travel may broaden one too much and travel to Moscow might even broaden a logical man into embarrassment and uneasiness.

For this reason you may see a surprising bit of news develop shortly. It is possible the delegation may find it necessary to move the conference to some other place, say, for instance Switzerland, where it is really beautiful in the spring. It is possible this may be done long before the allotted time of the conference. Marshall is known to have intended to remain six weeks at the start. (Senator Vandenberg wanted to bet him he would be in Moscow three months, but Marshall declined to take Republican money that easily, at that time foreseeing the possibility the conference might adjourn to some other place in three weeks.)

The delegates might be able to think with less embarrassment, more ease—and above all with greater clarity in Switzerland—or even in a telephone booth at the South Pole.

Mrs. Truman Makes The Hot-house of Fame

The White House has granted the nation's florists permission to name a flower after the first lady.

It's a great honor, of course, but Mrs. Truman is doubtless wondering: Did it have to be a snapdragon?

There has been no move as yet to name a flower after the President. But if it must come, Republicans hope it will be a Morning Glory rather than a hardy perennial.

Not that the G.O.P. puts much store by such omens . . . . After all, there was a Herebrt Hoover rose.

Still, some Republicans would like to see Tom Dewey thus horticulturally honored, although at this time there is a sharp difference of opinion as to whether it should be with Poison Ivy or the Cut-and-come-again.

Social barriers having been lowered so appreciably in recent years, it's now more difficult to get into a seed catalog than Who's Who.

In fact, while it's not as great an honor to have a flower named for you as a Pullman car, it's undeniably better than a sandwich.

Haiti's Plea for a Loan

By DAVID FERNSLER

WASHINGTON — Haiti, oldest of our sister republics, is a battle ground of ideologies amid poverty and despair.

A "people's government" which took control through revolution last year after 142 years of Haitian independence pockmarked by uprisings, poverty, exploitation and intervention, bears the people pleading in vain for work.

The government has no money. It seeks United States aid for rehabilitation. Communists are active. The rightist Peron government of Argentina has shown interest.

During a recent tour of the Caribbean area I found that the Haitians want to work. They have land and water but no means of financing their first crops.

Haiti is a land of coffee, cotton, sugar, sisal, bananas and cacao. There are many raw materials and minerals also, but the first hope of the present regime is in agriculture. Haiti could be a tourist's paradise.

Haitians can not understand why the United States has been so slow in granting them a loan of 20 million dollars. Actually, although a Haitian delegation has been discussing a loan here for two months or more, formal application to the Export-Import Bank was made only on Feb. 20. Normal time for "X-M" to investigate a loan request is three or four months.

Communists Lack Power

An aggressive Communist front, which could not muster enough strength to take command after the revolution, is supporting President Dumarsias Estime because he is a "Democrat and a man of the people."

United States delay in offering a loan is but one of the arguments upon which the Communists base denunciation of the Good Neighbor policy as "the most cruel policy" in the world.

In 1922, during the American occupation, Haiti borrowed 22 million dollars from private United States sources at 6 per cent interest. Communists, as well as men in the government, assert that although Haiti has repaid 38 million dollars in principal and interest, she still owes seven million dollars on that account. Haiti also owes the U. S. more than seven million on later loans totaling ten million.

President Estime says Argentina and Haiti are to exchange ambassadors shortly. That indicates that President Juan Domingo Peron of Argentina is interested. Many well-informed individuals say Argentina has offered a loan in furtherance of the commercial policy of that nation.

An Argentine cruiser visited Port au Prince, the Haitian capital, recently. Even the sailors who thronged shops, their hands filled with U. S. dollar bills, proved good ambassadors.

President Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, which occupies the remaining two-thirds of the Island of Hispaniola, has sent his foreign minister to Haiti as ambassador. This surprise move was interpreted as an attempt to improve relations and rally the forces against Communism in the Caribbean. Trujillo's nation is out of debt.

Rabble Rousers Busy

In recent years, the Communists charge, the clite of Haiti joined with financial interests outside the nation to exploit the people.

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, March 21, 1937. Bloody street fighting between police and Nationalist demonstrators for independence from the United States left at least seven dead and 50 wounded in the city of Ponce, Puerto Rico.

Approximately 140 members, former members and friends attended the homecoming and reunion held at Salem Evangelical and Reformed church. Rev. H. C. Ahrens, pastor, delivered the sermon after which there was a roll call of all confirmants.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dorfe of East Farming street.

Mrs. Clara Campbell and her father, G. A. Davidson of Gurley avenue, and Richard Davidson of north of Marion attended the presentation of a cantata, "The Seven Last Words," given by the choir of the Baptist church at Ann Arbor, Mich., under the direction of Robert Campbell, son of Mrs. Campbell.

Frederick Hermann Paessler, 72, former member of the Marion board of education died at his home in Upper Sandusky.

Schoolmates and friends from Prospect and Marion surprised Mrs. Frank Gast with a birthday party at her home in Prospect.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, March 21, 1927. As a result of one of the heaviest rainfalls of recent years Marion and the surrounding territory was experiencing one of the most serious flood situations since the deluge of 1913. By strange coincidence it was just 14 years to the day that the devastating rains preceding the historic 1913 flood started, Marion residents recalled.

Members of the Marion County Ministerial association voted to indorse the anti-dance bill sponsored in the state legislature by H. Edmund Hill of Marion. The address for the session was given by Jesse H. Mason, superintendent of schools, on "What the Public Schools Are, What They Have Done and What They Hope to Do."

Troy H. Schoonover, 25, machinist at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. plant, died at his home on Miami street.

Stalin and Marshall

By JOSEPH ALSOP

WASHINGTON, March 21—The first real repercussion of the first meeting between Secretary of State George C. Marshall and Generalissimo Stalin is probably the most important thing to watch for from Moscow. Marshall left this country with the intention of speaking to the Soviet dictator in a language which he has long been unaccustomed to hear. This intention was both approved by President Truman, and strongly encouraged by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. Marshall will not be speaking for the administration only, but for the United States.

It was agreed here that Marshall should tell Stalin, without equivocation that the United States regarded Soviet postwar policy as tantamount to political and economic warfare. It was agreed further that he should inform the Generalissimo, in unvarnished words, that this country did not propose to dodge, duck or avoid the Soviet challenge. He was in fact to offer Stalin a clear choice, between a radical revision of Soviet policy or a continuous, open contest in which the power and resources of the United States would be mobilized against the Soviet Union. It was in this context, without any effort to glaze over or explain away the American purpose, that the American policy towards Greece and Turkey was to be discussed.

Outcome Not Foreseen

No one can predict the outcome So far, the Kremlin seems to be even more completely stunned than the congress by the new boldness of American policy. Anyone familiar with the Soviet press must have noticed that the official "Izvestia" attack on Truman was a mere squeak or bleat, compared to the average of Soviet thunders against trifling inconveniences. Moreover, both the character of Marshall himself, and the Soviet Union's own internal troubles, will give special force to what Marshall has to say.

A few optimists venture to hope that a showdown may lead the Kremlin to consider a genuine world settlement. The difficulty will of course remain that Soviet political and economic warfare is largely conducted by underground methods. No one has yet solved this problem. And until the problem is solved, any Soviet signature on a world settlement must remain as valueless as Stalin's wartime promise to Winston Churchill to admit British influence in Yugoslavia and leave Greece wholly within the British sphere.

Meanwhile, one thing is plain, whatever happens, the hand of the administration will be powerfully strengthened. If Stalin proves eager to discuss a world settlement, the value of a positive American policy will be proven, for the blindest isolationist will not be able to maintain that this novel Soviet reaction is unconnected with the American show of firmness. Equally, if Stalin takes the opposite tack, there will be no course left open but to develop further the positive policy for which the foundation was laid by the President's message on Greece and Turkey.

Vandenberg's Reason

It was for this reason that Senator Vandenberg is understood to have urged Marshall to resort to plain-speaking. The whole episode is in truth, a dramatic illustration of the virtues and defects of the bi-partisan foreign policy as now conducted. On the one hand, Marshall's knowledge of Vandenberg's views must immeasurably strengthen him in his dealings with the Kremlin. On the other hand, this accrual of strength is much less than what might have been achieved by more regular consultation with Vandenberg and the other Republican leaders.

The plain truth is that American foreign policy has thus far only been genuinely bi-partisan in certain limited fields, such as the establishment of the United Nations and the negotiation of the peace treaties. In all other fields, bi-partisan consultation has only occurred when an emergency urgently demanded it. Vandenberg and the other Republicans have only been called in, so to speak, when the house was already on fire, and not when measures of fire-prevention could still be discussed.

It was for this season that Vandenberg refused to introduce the Greece-Turkey aid bill as his own. He maintained, quite rightly, that he had been given no continuing responsibility in the situation. He therefore argued that he was under no obligation to seem to take full responsibility now. It was for the same reason also that he insisted upon a careful review of American policy in other areas, such as China and South America. Before the administration made a new departure of such far-reaching implications, he very reasonably wished to know where it might take the country in future. Under the circumstances, it is greatly to the credit of all the Republican leaders, and especially Vandenberg, that they have assisted the administration as much as they have.

Unknown Flier Buried on Yap Island

By The Associated Press

YAP, Caroline Islands—One of the loneliest American graves in all the Pacific lies beneath the palm trees of this lovely little island.

It is the only American grave on Yap. No one knows the name of the young flier who was buried there by the natives after his fighter plane crashed and burned more than three years ago.

The grave is lonely, but it is not forgotten. Each day the natives place flesh flowers at the base of a crude cross and push back the encroaching jungle growth.

The Mediterranean Crisis Talkers

"SO we're gonna go into Greece and Turkey, eh?"

"Yeah, so I hear. Maybe it's okay. Some of my best friends are Greeks."

"Yeah? How many Turks ya know?"

"Only a couple. But they seemed nice fellers the time I bought the bedroom rug."

"I guess them Greeks and Turks is behind the eight ball."

"Sure."

"What happened that the English took the runout powder so fast?"

"That's what gets me, buddy."

"Yeah, me, too. When them British start saying they can't hold onto things it sounds funny."

"Sure does. Anytime John Bull yells 'This is too much for me to handle' we're in a new world, pal."

* * *

"John Bull says he ain't got the money or the men to stay in Greece. That's like hearing Rockefeller announce he can't keep an auto no more."

"Dya think it's on the level?"

"Them British has got plenty of trouble, alright. Look at all the blizzards they had all winter."

"Why should we step into the Mediterranean? Just because we had less snow in the United States?"

"The old days of empire is gone I guess."

"Yeah, I guess so. Everybody's finding enough trouble on the home grounds without going into it wholesale."

"Everybody but us. Gee, sometimes I think we will go anywhere to get into extra trouble. I think Benjamin Franklin was right when he said America should always keep out of European messes."

"It was George Washington."

"Okay. When we got a great guy like Washington why don't we stick to his advice. What's it got us getting into European wars twice? Out of the first one we got prohibition and the income tax. Out of the last one we got atomic energy commissions, 75 cent cocktails, the Quonset hut and Gromyko."

"You forgot the shorter loaf of bread."

* * *

"Still I suppose we gotta show Russia she can't shove the whole world around. Being the bear that walks like a man is okay, but Stalin is the bear that walks like he was five or six men."

"Yeah, but I don't like the looks of things. It could yank us right into another war."

"There is some things worse than war."

"You read that in a Congressional speech."

* * *

"Oh, well, anyhow, it's all over my head. What happens just happens. Gee, I remember away back when no American kid could spell Mediterranean. Now we may have to keep it open."

"You ain't kiddin. Well, here's where I have to leave ya. So long."

"See ya in the Dardanelles."

"Could be, pal."

MEDITATION BY UNCLE SAM

I have a big heart;
I'm by nature noble,
But am I a rescue
Party global?

We read of a man being arrested the other day for stealing hundreds of golf clubs. This must have caused him to lose all faith in the instructors who told him "If you have the right clubs you can always keep out of trouble."

CAN YOU REMEMBER—

Away back when a dollar would buy enough stuff to require a small paper bag?

Suggestion for a theme song at all discussions between Joe Stalin and Uncle Sam: "We're merely allies but can't we be friends?"

Bread and Gravy

By TRUMAN TWILL

Besides being a month of big winds and sudden changes, March is bread-and-gravy month, officially designated by the people who sell the ingredients. That's the best part about free enterprise; it's so enterprising.

The very fact these people didn't stop at a week but set aside a whole month to reconvert the American consumer to an old standby shows they mean business. They are determined characters. Maybe they'll even do something about the apologetic status of us bread-and-gravy eaters.

What we want is to be able to hold up our heads in the company of such distinguished combinations as ham and eggs, whisky and soda, Barnum & Bailey, death and taxes, rock and rye, Lum and Abner, steak and potatoes, gin and tonic and Abercrombie & Fitch. When the women we love can march into the snazziest beaneries in the land, tuck napkins into their fashionably low-cut bodices and yell for bread and gravy in loud, shameless tones, we'll know bread and gravy are here to stay.

Meals will be built around the combination. French menus will list "du pain avec jus au naturel." Clip joints will floss it up and peddle it to suckers at three bucks fifty an edition. Friends will be invited in for bread and gravy. It can't happen too soon. Bread and gravy deserve to be respectable.

As it is, a customer licks up his plate, glances casually to the right and left and then, if he's among friends and there's any gravy left, he deals himself a slab of punk, grabs the gravy boat and launches himself a morsel, first asking permission for doing something out of the ordinary.

If he doesn't ask permission, eyebrows are likely to be lifted—and that's what is wrong with bread and gravy. That and one other detail we want to mention to the people who are trying to whoop it up.

Too much barreled gravy and too much bread that behaves like a bath sponge in the presence of moisture have been a bad combination for bread and gravy. We don't want to be difficult about this thing, but millions of Americans didn't learn to be fond of bread and gravy without special inducements.

If you're going to make bread and gravy what they deserve to be, gentlement, you've got to have real pan gravy and bread that will stand up and fight. Good luck anyway.

NO MORE CHANGING TO GAS HEAT FROM OTHER FUELS

An emergency having been created by the unprecedented demand for gas for space heating purposes and the inability of the Company and its suppliers to purchase or obtain necessary pipe and equipment to make additional gas supplies to meet all present and prospective increases in demands, the following temporary rules governing gas and gas burning equipment for space heating purposes became effective March 1, 1947, and will remain in effect until amended or cancelled. This condition has been covered by a temporary order of the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, dated February 28, 1947, which is summarized as follows:

NO residence or place of business depending upon fuel other than gas as its principal source of space heating shall be permitted to change to gas-fired equipment.

THE only exceptions to No. 1, shall be those few cases where unusual medical hardship is involved. Such exceptions shall be determined by The Gas Company after complete evidence satisfactory to the Company has been submitted.

NEWLY constructed premises with heating equipment exclusively designed for gas are eligible for gas heating upon proper application to The Gas Company.

WORN out or outmoded gas heating equipment in existing buildings may be replaced with other gas-fired equipment provided the gas burning capacity is not increased, and provided proper application is obtained with The Gas Company.

[illegible] conversion burners of gas heating equipment in existing buildings will be permitted only when [illegible] The Gas Company will [illegible] in writing that sufficient gas supplies are available to meet the requirements of the proposed installation.

Check Shows Lilienthal Has Support of Senate Majority

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—David E. Lilienthal has the present support of a majority of the senate, an Associated Press check showed today.

Hence his confirmation as chairman of the atomic control commission is almost certain unless some senators change their minds during the debate.

Of 74 members willing to say how they would vote today on the controversial nomination 49—a clear majority of the 95 qualified members—said they intend to support the nomination. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said debate on the issue probably will start Monday.

Forty-three senators, including Senator Capper (R-Kan), who has been undecided until today, have announced publicly their support of Lilienthal. Six others say privately they intend to vote for him but do not want their names known before they announce their votes in the senate.

25 Oppose Confirmation

Twenty-five senators are listed as opposed to confirmation. Five others, however, are withholding publication of their names until they can tell their colleagues in senate speeches why they do not want to see the former TVA director continue at the helm of the atomic commission. Lilienthal has been serving under a recess appointment since last Jan 1.

Taft—who openly opposes Lilienthal as being "too soft" toward communism—told a reporter he thinks the outcome still hangs in the balance and will not be determined until all the debate is concluded.

The Ohio senator, chairman of the Republican policy committee, said that his recent international observations which caused President Truman to ask aid for Turkey and Greece to block Communism out of those two countries "have not been a help to Lilienthal" in his lengthy fight for confirmation.

How They Line Up

Here is how those who have announced their stand publicly divide on the Lilienthal appointment:

For confirmation (43).

Republicans for—

Aiken, Ball, Capper, Hickenlooper, Ives, Knowland, Lodge, Millikin, Morse, Saltonstall, Smith, Tobey, Vandenberg, Wilson, Young (15).

Against confirmation (20).

Republicans against—

Brewster, Bricker, Bridges, Brooks, Bushfield, Cain, Capehart, Eaton, Flanders, Kem, McCarthy, Moore, Robertson (Wyo.), Taft, Wherry, White (16).

Democrats against—

McKellar, O'Daniel, Overton, Stewart (4).

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

Eye Infection

Many of the germs which cause external eye infections can be stopped by the use of penicillin. This is fortunate indeed because it gives us a quick and sure weapon against many disorders of this important organ.

The most common external eye infections in children are blepharitis which is an inflammation of the edge of the eyelids, conjunctivitis or inflammation of the lining membrane over the eyeball and infections of the tear sac.

It has been shown that the germs most often responsible are staphylococci, pneumococci, and the Morax-Axenfeld bacillus. In most cases staphylococci are the chief offenders.

According to Dr. Joseph Minton of England, these various conditions can be successfully treated with penicillin drops or ointment. He has found that blepharitis clears up quickly with penicillin ointment. However, there is a tendency for it to recur when treatment is stopped. Hence, he suggests that even after the inflammation along the edge of the lids has cleared, the penicillin ointment be applied to the lids as a preventive twice a week for several weeks.

He has also found that conjunctivitis in infants and children clears up within a few days when treated with penicillin. He suggests that the parent be given a solution of penicillin in a bottle with a fitted dropped. The penicillin drops are put into the eye four times a day.

In tear sac infections penicillin drops also were used. In most cases this cleared up the eye inflammation and the discharge from the tear sac within a week's treatment. In many cases the eye continued to water even after the penicillin treatment. If this continued for three weeks it was necessary to pass a tiny instrument known as a probe into the tear sac. This, as a rule, resulted in a cure of the condition.

The same sort of treatment was successful for blepharitis and conjunctivitis in adults. It was noted in some cases that redness and swelling of the skin of the lids occurred in some of the patients who used the penicillin eye drops and ointment. This was found to be due to sensitivity or allergy to the penicillin and cleared up promptly when the use of the penicillin was discontinued.

Red Cross Drive In Crawford Co. Extended

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, March 21—With the exception of one rural division and one Bucyrus city precinct, all divisions have failed to reach their quotas in the Red Cross drive which has been extended to March 31 in an effort to reach the goal.

The campaign stood at less than the halfway mark with $3,575 pledges as against the $7,890 quota.

There are three million of those people or more, on 10,204 square miles of land. Despite her tumbled purple mountains, she has plenty of land for all.

"Our people want to work," President Estime told me in an interview. "We must have money in order to put them to work on that land.

"We plead for justice and understanding. Surely, the great statesmen striving for world peace must take note of our plight. Surely they recognize there can be no peace without solidarity, justice and compassion.

"We loved Franklin D. Roosevelt, who released our land from the army of occupation. We have every confidence in President Truman. My government recognizes the plight of our people. Every man in this government must put love of his fellow man above everything else. But we must have financial help. If our government is to survive, if this new democracy here is to succeed.

"Our national income is less than ten million dollars. From that is first taken two million dollars for principal and interest owed on the old United States debt. There is too little left for sanitation, for national education in a land where illiteracy is estimated at 55 per cent — and nothing for developing this nation, which has so long been exploited on every side."

COLUMBUS OFFICE OF CPA TO BE CLOSED

Cleveland To Take Over Marion County Activities.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 21—The Columbus office of the civilian production administration will close April 19 "as an economy measure" and its central Ohio territory will be divided between the Cleveland and Cincinnati district offices Manager Louis W. Gehring announced today.

Gehring said the office would stop receiving applications for permits for non-residential construction April 1. The closing does not indicate any change in the veterans' housing program order under which industrial, commercial, and institutional construction has been restricted since March 26, 1946.

The Cleveland district will take over Marion, Morrow, Delaware, Knox, Licking, Fairfield, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Guernsey, Noble, Morgan, Belmont, Monroe, and Washington counties. The Cincinnati office will receive applications from Van Wert, Montgomery, Shelby, Clark, Hardin, Fayette, Pike, Gallia, Hocking, Mercer, Allen, Miami, Champaign, Pickaway, Union, Scioto, Jackson, Meigs, Darke, Auglaize, Greene, Logan, Madison, Ross, Lawrence, Vinton and Athens counties.

The Columbus office is one of six being closed in the country, Gehring said. He is a candidate for city manager of Springfield.

SENATE GROUP O.K.'S KEEPING RENT CURBS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—A senate banking subcommittee today unanimously approved legislation continuing rent controls through Feb. 28, 1948, without a general increase.

Chairman Buck (R-Del) said the subcommittee will decide next on how the rent program will be administered after OPA goes out of business next June 30.

The subcommittee discarded provisions of a previous bill which would have wiped OPA out of the rent picture and handed the control program to the courts.

The new measure authorizes state governors to set up advisory rent committees in each of the 600-odd areas under rent control.

It also provides for removal of rent ceilings on new houses, dwellings renting for $225 or more a month, accommodations which were not rented between Feb. 1, 1946, and Jan. 31, 1947, hotels and motor courts.

The local advisory committee would have authority to recommend:

1. Removal of rent ceilings on an area basis.
2. Increases on an area basis.
3. Special adjustments in "hardship" cases.

Device To Cut Out Radio Commercials Invented by Ohioan

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 21—Myron O. Schilling doesn't like radio commercials—and he done something about it.

The 29-year-old engineer has devised a time-delay relay and some push buttons. It's simply a small electric clock with a switch. The motor runs a certain number of revolutions and then closes or opens the switch.

As soon as the radio's announcer's voice gets silky soft and he starts to say, "and now a word from our sponsor," Mr. and Mrs. Schilling rushes to the nearest button operating the time-delay device. This cuts off the radio for 60 seconds.

Schilling even plans to do something about the 60-second period of silence.

"I am in the process of connecting my magnetic wire recorder to interpose a moment of soft music in the time ordinarily occupied by the commercial," disclosed.

No Clues Found To Aged Ohioan's Slayer

By The Associated Press

GREENFIELD, O., March 21—Identity and motive of the slayer who bludgeoned LeRoy Woodland, 74, of Higginsville, O., were still a mystery today, 24 hours after his battered body was found beneath a mattress in his suburban home.

Prosecutor Eugene A. Hahne and Sheriff F. F. Gustin looked for new clues after the questioning of relatives and two of Woodland's roomers, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Yankee, failed to produce a lead.

Coroner W. M. Hoyt of Hillsboro reported Woodland died of a skull fracture extending from his left ear to a point behind his right eye. Woodland was found unconscious in his bed, partially disrobed, and covered by a mattress.

AGENCY SEES RECORD INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21—United States employment service predicts that the 12 months beginning July 1 will bring a new peacetime high in industrial output and national income.

The picture was presented by Robert C. Goodwin, director of the United States employment service, in testimony before the house appropriations committee made public today.

Goodwin said the employment service nevertheless expects a "heavy work load" stemming chiefly from continued reconversion and the task of finding jobs for veterans.

Of the veterans, he had this to say:

1. "Although most veterans will be employed, we may expect that roughly a million will be in the labor market and unemployed at the beginning of the period.

2. "Approximately another million veterans will be in school, many of whom will enter the labor market during the next fiscal year.

3. "With the fluctuation in the demand for labor among the various segments of the labor market, veterans — along with other workers — will become involuntarily unemployed and will turn to the employment service for help in finding new jobs.

The Newspaper Boy

Did you ever stop to think the service your newspaper boy performs?

He makes his delivery nightly, whether it is raining, snowing, windy or 100 in the shade. Nothing stops him from making his daily appointed rounds.

He is a little business man operating a business just as your milk man, your bread man, your grocer, or any other merchant.

He buys his papers at wholesale and sells them to you at retail. The difference is his profit.

He is the soul judge of whom to extend credit.

He depends upon the prompt payment of his accounts for his profit and working capital just as the merchant that operates any business.

He has his problems the same as you and I do. Some people want the paper delivered one place, others want it in a different location, he tries to please everyone.

However — should you at any time have irregular delivery of The Star to your home we shall appreciate a prompt complaint.

Seminoles Not Civilized Enough To Need Jails

Getting Married Not Easy

...e man's divorce mills ...he partner strays down ...se path The Seminoles ...e quicker solution fo... the problem of adultery—death for the guilty one

Getting married by the old orthodox Indian laws was no easy matter. The bridegroom had to come live with the brides parents for four years. If they approved of him, the wedding took place at the next "green corn dance," annual purifying ceremony.

Often, however, "in-law" trouble proved too much for the young couple and they ran off into the Everglades When they emerged, they were usually forgiven and married informally by the chief with these words

"Be good, love each other and live together"

For the satisfaction of relatives the ceremony was repeated at the next green corn dance

Divorce is easy but rare among the Seminoles. The man simply leaves and the woman returns to her mother's family Her children go with her, and the divorced husband thereafter never so much as touches his offspring

Few Are Highly Educated

No Seminole has ever been graduated from a university and only three or four have finished high school

Although technically eligible for the draft, only three of the tribe's 740 members served in the recent World War Selective Service boards normally didn't bother to call them up because few Indian youths met the army's educational requirements

Live Up To Rigid Code

Once one of the most moral people on the face of the earth the Seminoles rigidly lived up to their code: "never lie, steal or cheat"

They observed this code for decades much better than some unscrupulous white businessmen who duped them

The reason was religious fear The Seminoles believed that when a bad Indian died his soul perished too But a good Indian upon his death could go talk with God — E-shock-e-ton-i-see" — for four days, then take up his possessions and depart. But his spirit could return at will For the four days he was visiting God, his relatives kept fires burning at each end of his grave. The body was buried facing east. Those dying during the day had to be buried by sunset and those who passed away during the night by sunrise

Guarded Purity Well

So well did the Seminoles observe their blood purity laws that no case of venereal disease appeared in the tribe until 1923 By 1930 there were 25 reported cases and with the continued decline of tribal authority the disease is still spreading

4-H Club Activity Is Resumed

Four-H club activity held the spotlight in several of Marion county's rural sections this week as old clubs were being reorganized, new clubs were being formed and projects for the year were being discussed and selected by club members

Within the next few weeks, between 200 and 300 rural boys will be engaged in 4-H club work Lloyd Lutz, Marion county 4-H advisor, said today the next two weeks will see considerable activity in boys' 4-H clubs throughout the county Several of the boys' clubs already have held their first meetings this year and discussed club projects. Two clubs, the Martel Future Farmers and the Claridon Buckeye Lads, have reorganized and elected new officers Kenneth Pangborn is advisor for the Martel club and John P. Lawrence is advisor for the Claridon club

The Morral Farm Boys' club, including younger members, met recently to discuss club projects. Roy Holdridge is club advisor A second club, to include older boys also is being considered at Morral

Mr Lutz met with boys at New Bloomington Wednesday and discussed plans for the organization of two clubs there, one for New Bloomington and the other for Big Island boys.

Plans now are underway for a county advisors meeting in April, to acquaint new advisors with club work and discuss club activity in general

More than 225 boys were enrolled in the county's 16 boys' clubs last year, and club officials hope to boost that number considerably this year

Activity in the girls' clubs is expected to start next month The nature of their projects does not require that they begin their work as early as the boys' clubs, Mr Lutz said house legislature along the lines of the U. S. senate and house of representatives, a president without executive powers and strong state rights.

First With Idea

Bevin was the first of the four ministers here to place his ideas on the structure of the German state before the council.

Informants said the British plan envisioned a lower legislative chamber elected according to population and an upper chamber elected on the basis of a fixed number of representatives from each of the laender (states).

Power Over Foreign Policy

This central organization for Germany would have power over foreign policy and such external matters as the export-import program, while the states would retain most of the executive rights.

It was expected France and the United States would support the British proposal and the Russians, who want a strong central government for Germany would oppose it.

The ministers gave precedence today to a review of the progress of their deputies drafting a peace treaty for Austria.

Easter Is Theme For Bible Class Meeting

"Easter" was used as the theme for the meeting and program when the Woman's Bible class of Wesley Methodist church met Tuesday night night with Mrs. Edith Bush of 202 Windsor street. Mrs. Cora Daymude, president, was in charge.

Two songs by the group and devotions by the chaplain, Mrs. Fred Upton, opened the meeting. Prayer was given by Rev. H. M. McAdow. The class voted to give $10 to the church Easter offering.

The program, in charge of Mrs. Electa Wilbert, consisted of readings by Mrs. Ocie Latimore and Mrs. Daymude, vocal duet by Mrs. Bush and Mrs. Effie McCrery, solo by Mrs. Byron Rice, a talk by Rev. McAdow, and the Lord's Prayer by the group. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. McAdow. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Ola Louderbeck, Mrs. Minnie Fetter and Mrs. Della Davis. The next meeting will be with Mrs. John Monk of 558 Ballentine avenue.

Elliot Lawrence Band Coming Here

A new band which has gained considerable notice in radio and eastern personal appearances will come to the Palace theater for afternoon and evening performances Wednesday.

Its leader is Elliot Lawrence, 21-year-old former musical prodigy. The band has appeared at New York's Hotel Pennsylvania and at the famed Frank Daily's Meadowbrook in New Jersey. It has also made regular network broadcasts.

Lawrence, a Philadelphian, organized bands while in high school and later was active in musical circles at the University of Pennsylvania. He was music director of radio station WCAU in Philadelphia at the age of 19.

ACHESON

there are no particular "internal pressures" on the Turkish government, but it is staggering under the load of maintaining a normal economy while also keeping armed forces in a state of semi-mobilization.

Acheson also had another tentative date today — this one with Warren Austin, chief American delegate to the United Nations. Austin has been reported deeply disturbed over the possible effect this country's decision to go it alone in the case of Greece and Turkey may have on small-nation members of the world organization.

Speculation was rife on Capitol Hill that Austin might urge upon President Truman a face-saving gesture for the UN. This possibly would be a formal report of the situation to Secretary General Trygve Lie with the explanation that the UN was bypassed this time only because it is not yet equipped for action.

Striving to win swift approval of a measure empowering President Truman to furnish the two countries with $400,000,000 in money and material and to send them "limited" 'military missions, Acheson made these three major points yesterday:

1. Strengthening the forces of democracy should help remove friction between the major powers, rather than increase it. He said he does not believe American help for the two countries "could lead to war."

2. Collapse of Greece and Turkey, with resulting Communistic domination, might set off a "chain reaction" among other countries —both to the east and west— which would be dangerous to the cause of democracy.

3. Aid to Greece and Turkey does not, necessarily, set a "pattern" for American aid of a similar type elsewhere. He did not, however, rule out that possibility. He said there might be areas where this country "may not be able to help": others in which American aid might take a different form.

Inhalator Revives Child In Danger of Smothering

The Central fire station inhalator squad answered a call today at 11:30 a. m. to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Line of 994 West Center street, where the Garland's 19-month-old baby girl, ill with whooping cough, had been unable to catch her breath.

The child was being attended by a physician, who put the call in when she fainted, was brought around after being under the inhalator about five minutes.

BLACK MARKET PENALTY FOR HIM. Still of dire importance to the populace which finds food and clothing almost nonexistent at the shops, the black market scourge in Romania has become a real problem. Even public officials have become contaminated by their association with black marketeers. One of them, Inspector Patrascu of the Bucharest municipality, is being led through the streets with citizens demanding punishment for him. Patrascu was entrusted with the administration of foodstuffs for all city employes and is accused of selling one wagon of sodium, necessary to workers and employes, on the black market. Savant Deplores Ignorance Of Ordinary People About Politics

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, March 21—So you want your boy to grow up into politics? That's not a bad idea. But why don't you?

Many thinking people are disturbed by the present American attitude of "Let George do it."

James Marlow

Vanderbilt university law school, one of those deeply concerned about future political leaders.

What bothers him and others is that we don't take enough personal interest in local, state, national and international politics; somebody else does it.

Many stay out of politics altogether, depending upon politicians to run the country and for their personal gain. That's what Vanderbilt recently wrote of his worries in the New York Times. The piece has just been reprinted in the Congressional Record.

Unfortunately, that record is read mostly by men already in politics. Few others are likely to see it.

Vanderbilt tells this story of what he means.

Not long ago in a small city he talked to an audience of 200 or 300 people, most of them mixed up in politics in city and state.

They were county committeemen and women, election board members, officers of political clubs, and public office holders generally.

Vanderbilt asked all of them to hold up their hands and drop them when they couldn't answer a question he asked. He says:

"I called for the names of the President and the vice president (a few hands fell), the two United States senators from that state (more hands went down) the congressman for their district (many more hands fell down), the state senator, the assemblyman, the sheriff, the county clerk, the surrogate, the county register, the county supervisor, (hands were falling down like leaves in a hurricane) and the town commissioners.

Two Per Cent Survive

"Only two per cent of those practical politicians in the audience survived the test. What would be the rating of an ordinary audience in such a test?"

Vanderbilt points out these things to show widespread lack of interest in, or distaste for, politics.

In the 1938 congressional elections, 38,000,000 people voted. In 1942, in the middle of the war, only 28,000,000 voted for congressmen, a 10,000,000 drop.

That 28,000,000 who voted in 1942 were only 54 per cent of the voters in this country eligible to vote.

In a recent national poll 67 per cent of the people questioned said they wouldn't want their sons to enter politics.

"Can't Be Honest"

And 50 per cent said they did not think it possible for a man to enter politics and remain honest.

Vanderbilt in part blames our educational system for "falling down on its primary job of training citizens for their duties of leading public opinion and developing wise, efficient political leaders.

"Our college graduates as a class have not been sustaining the burden of public leadership either at the top or the bottom of the political ladder.

"Yet who can doubt that there is a greater premium today on political intelligence than on any other type of brains.

"If a young college graduate * * * is seeking to do his duty as a citizen by participating actively in politics it will be a matter of sheer good luck if he finds his way about."

Peter the Great of Russia could not read nor write until he had been czar for five years.

DRIVE NEAR GOAL

MARYSVILLE — With six of its 17 districts in Union county still to report, the Red Cross drive for funds is only a few dollars short of its 1947 goal, according to Edgar Hastings, county chairman of the drive. Mr. Hastings states that $4,559 of the goal of $4,580 has already been recorded.

The Pony Express charged $5 for each letter of five ounces or less. Later this charge was reduced to $2.50 and, after a government subsidy was provided, to $1.

CITRUS CHICKEN PIE — Fruit dress-up for an old favorite.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press, Food Editor

With citrus fruit plentiful, as it certainly has been this year, try our unusual use of grapefruit in the Citrus Pie below. With it you have to serve only a good green salad with onion rings, some very special rolls—and a good dessert. Your guests will be delighted with the whole thing. Try it and see.

Citrus Chicken Pie

3 tablespoons shortening or chicken fat, 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 5 tablespoons flour, ¼ cup chicken stock or broth, ¼ cup milk, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs slightly beaten, 1¼ cups diced cooked chicken, ¾ cup diced cooked ham, 1 cup grapefruit sections cut in pieces, ¼ cup sliced olives, 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, grated Parmesan cheese.

Melt shortening in a saucepan and brown mushrooms and onion in it. Cook until they are soft. Blend in flour. Gradually add stock and milk and cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper. Combine mixture with eggs and cook two minutes longer. Remove from heat and add chicken, ham, grapefruit sections and olives. Mix well and pour into baked pastry shell. Sprinkle top with the cheese and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) for 20 minutes. Decorate top with grapefruit sections and watercress. Cut in wedges and serve hot. Serves four.

Almond Cheese Rolls

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons [illegible], ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon shortening, dash cayenne pepper, ¾ cup buttermilk, 1 tablespoon melted butter, ½ cup unblanched almonds, chopped, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Cut in shortening. Add cayenne and buttermilk and mix well. Knead dough lightly about 20 times. Roll in rectangle one-quarter inch thick. Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle with cheese, almonds and parsley. Roll lengthwise like jelly roll and cut in slices one-half inch thick. Place slices cut side down on greased baking sheet. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 18 rolls.

Butterscotch Rice

½ cup rice, 2 cups milk, 1 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ¼ tablespoon salt.

Scald milk. Add washed rice and cook in double boiler. Cook brown sugar and butter or margarine until syrupy, stirring constantly. When rice is nearly tender stir in the syrup and cook until entirely done. Chill and serve topped with whipped cream.

Coon Dog Trial Set For Bucyrus Sunday

Special to The Star

GALION, March 21 — Dogs from all parts of the state will participate in the first annual early spring Coon Dog field trial to be sponsored by the Crawford County Coon Hunters association Sunday at the Crawford county fair grounds, Bucyrus.

The announcement was made today by R. W. Stall of Galion, president of the association. He said this is the first early chase to be held at their fair grounds for five years because the government had occupied the grounds for that time and would not allow any public activities.

The coon chase or field trial is the main source of the present day to raise funds to carry on restocking and feeding of wild game in the county, Stall said. The Crawford county organization has a reputation for holding one of the best field trials of any county in the state and ranks high for restocking and feeding the game. In the summer and fall of 1946 and spring of 1947 the association released 75 adult stock pheasants and 160 coon and are now trying to purchase seven dozen Missouri rabbits.

On the grounds Fred Frost and Charles Sargel will have assistants in serving lunch and refreshments. All profits from this and the chase begins at 12:30 p. m.

Middletown, New Knoxville Claw Way Into State Cage Tourney Finals

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., March 21 — Middletown and New Knoxville—two teams with courage in the clutch—are definite starters in Saturday's finals for Ohio's high school basketball championships.

Both displayed that "punch in the pinch" attribute of top-flight competitors in yesterday's semi-final Coliseum clashes in the silver anniversary classic of the OHSAA before a total of 7,667 fans.

The Middies, bidding for their third class A crown in four years, staged one of their patented last-minute rallies to snatch a 36-31 victory over a darkhorse Ashtabula squad.

New Knoxville, with most of its regulars suffering with the aftermath of influenza attacks, sagged in the late going and allowed an inspired Phillipsburg team to overcome a third-period 37-20 handicap and tie it up at 49-49 with less than a minute to go. Then New Knoxville sank the payoff shot for a 51-49 conquest.

Victory Pays Off

That victory, earned mostly through the 31-point scoring splurge of 15-year-old six-foot four-inch Jack Kuck, sent the Rangers into the final round in their first try for state class B laurels.

Middletown will have as it's opponent Saturday night the winner of tonight's clash between Findlay and East Liverpool, and the press box hunch was that either would take the title unless the Middies snap out of the sluggish play they showed last night.

The Rangers, with Kuck hitting from all angles, are regarded as an even choice against either Columbiana or Corning, the hot-shot class B teams which meet this afternoon for the remaining finals berth in the smaller school division.

The Findlay-East Liverpool contest is rated a toss-up off the season records, Findlay having lost only two of 23 games, and the Potters bowing only three times in 25. In the class B semi-final, Columbiana's smooth Clippers with a 23-1 record are given a slight edge over Corning's Railroaders who will present Jerry Jones, a 700-point scorer this season, as their No. 1 threat. The Railroaders have won 29 of 36.

Middletown, paced by six-foot four-inch George McChesney with 15 points, and all-Ohio Shelby Linville with 10, were on the short end of an 8-4 count before zooming to an 11-8 edge at the end of the first quarter.

Ashtabula started dumping in two-pointers from far out on the floor to tie it at 20-20 at half-time. The tight Middie defense held the Panthers to two field goals in the third session, both by Bob Halgus, as the champs went out front 27 to 24. Then Ashtabula made its bid and ran its count to 30 before Middletown scored again. Finally, with less than three minutes to go, Middletown pulled up even at 31-31, with Bob Grimes getting the two-pointer which tied it.

Grimes hit for another to put the champs out front, and Bob Bush dumped a free throw and Linville a basket to clinch it.

Kuck's scoring spree was the second best in tournament history, falling two points short of the record 33 racked up by Roger Phillips of Cridersville in 1941. The Rangers had a 12-7 lead at the quarter, and 25-16 at the half, before running their edge to 37-20 midway in the third session.

Lee Bohlender, who paced the Phillipsburg squad with 21 points, took a hand at the point and the Thunderbolts were behind 42-32 with the final 8-minute period to go. Perry Mayo hit for three quick Phillipsburg buckets to trim the margin to four points before Kuck sank two in a row. Bohlender got three straight free throws, but Kuck and Bob Bair dropped a basket and a free throw to make it New Knoxville 49, Phillipsburg 41, with three minutes to go.

Doe Schaurer and Ike Loughman collected Phillipsburg baskets, and Hugh Haines, nephew of Jesse Haines, the former St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, got a pair and there was the game all tied up at 49-49 with less than a minute to go.

But Kuck, rapidly tiring after his bout with the flu, had enough left to sink his 30th and 31st points to pull the game out of the fire, and the exhausted New Knoxville stalled the last half-minute.

Cards To Win Flag, Says Dyer, If Bums, Play Jackie Robinson

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Editor

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Back in the twenties Eddie Dyer batted only .223 while playing in 129 games for the St. Louis Cardinals, but today as manager of the world champions the affable Texan is hitting 1,000 with every baseball writer who visits the Sunshine City.

You don't have to ask Dyer any questions. He rambles on from his heart and everything he says makes an interesting yarn. The writer who attempts to "pull a pencil" on Eddie just doesn't have a chance. He talks fast but when he says something it sticks because he talks real baseball logic. You don't have to make a note.

Take the other day, for example. Three of us more fortunate baseball writers "from up nawth" were grouped around Dyer inside the wire fence next to the dressing room. People were milling around outside the fence—about 25 of them—and they all listened intently as Dyer told story after story.

Talk Turns To Bums

The talk got around to Brooklyn. Dyer told how he admired Branch Rickey, the man who started him in baseball right off the Rice Institute campus, and how he respected the managerial ability of Leo Durocher. Then Eddie mentioned Jackie Robinson.

"I think just as my boys do," said Dyer. "If the Dodgers play Jackie Robinson (Negro player and No. 1 question in the majors) instead of Eddie Stanky, we'll win the pennant easy.

"Stanky can't hit, run or throw, I'm told, but don't let anybody kid you. He's a real competitor and you always know he's in the ball game. They say Robinson is at home on second base. Well that's fine because some of my boys are rooting for him over Stanky. I put Eddie on my all star team last year."

All Planned Moves

"Don't let them fool you in Brooklyn. They had people believing Mr. Rickey did things with mirrors last year when they battled us right down to the first playoff on record. But I know Mr. Rickey and every move the Dodgers made was a planned move." Dyer added that "off the field my relations with Durocher always have been most pleasant."

You just can't help but admire Dyer. His team was favored to win the pennant last season in his first year as a major league manager. However, because it was his first year, he had to move slowly and couldn't use certain players whose ability yet hadn't been tested.

"I knew Brooklyn had to slow its pace a little," he said, "and I knew we'd have to step up our tempo to catch them. That just what happened."

The guy never seems to have an excuse but always praise for the other fellow.

Grimm Says Cubs Will Give Cards, Brooks Competition

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, March 21—Manager Charlie Grimm, appraising the Chicago Cubs' National league pennant chances after the early spring training games, gave out with this optimistic statement today:

"If we continue to make runs like we have most of the spring, we'll give the Cardinals and Dodgers a battle right down to the wire."

The Cubs, who have won five straight exhibitions, meet Casey Stengel's Pacific Coast league Oaks at Oakland tonight, with Paul Erickson and Cliff Chambers slated for mound duty.

• • •

SARASOTA, Fla.—Tex Hughson, the Boston Red Sox ace, says his pitch is breaking better than ever this spring. "I always threw that pitch almost at arm's length," Tex explained, "but I got to studying the way Joe Dobson throws his bender, starting almost from the shoulder, and when I tried it that way, it broke off better than before. And that's the way I'm going to do it this year."

• • •

TAMPA, Fla.—The Cincinnati Reds, gunning for their third straight exhibition victory, planned to use Bucky Walters and Harry Gumpert against the New York Yankees today. The Reds rapped out a 10-6 triumph over the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

• • •

MIAMI, Fla.—Sam Zoldak, Lew Christie and Ray Shore were scheduled to hurl for the St. Louis Browns today against the Baltimore Orioles of the International league.

• • •

LAKELAND, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers split forces today to meet a pair of exhibition game foes. One section of the Bengal squad goes to Sarasota to take on the Boston Red Sox, while a second team journeys to Bradenton for a contest with the Louisville Colonels of the American association.

• • •

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The St. Louis Cardinals were faced with the possibility today of having to open the regular season without George (Whitey) Kurowski, veteran third baseman, who reported his right elbow was paining him to such an extent that he was unable to throw.

A preliminary game will be played between the Grange All-Stars of Hardin and Auglaize counties.

MACKIEWICZ LIKELY CLEVELAND STARTER

Hank Edwards' Injury Gives Grid Star a Chance.

By The Associated Press

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 21—Big Felix Mackiewicz, former Purdue university football star, probably will be in the starting lineup when the Cleveland Indians open their American league season against the Chicago White Sox in Cleveland stadium April 15.

Manager Lou Boudreau previously anounced his opening day lineup but Hank Edwards' shoulder injury has forced a revision of plans and gave Felix his chance.

The husky blond currently is batting over .500 and probably will be assigned to left field.

The Indians returned to major league opposition yesterday after a series of contests with Pacific Coast league clubs and absorbed a 6 to 1 defeat by the White Sox, their opening day opponents.

Ed Lopat gave the Tribe only two hits and an unearned run in five innings while Earl Caldwell, who hurled the last four, granted only two hits.

The Sox hammered Red Embree and Roger Wolff for 11 blows, including a home run by Jack Walladsa and a triple by Bob Kennedy.

Phillies Dicker For Reds' Eddie Miller

By The Associated Press

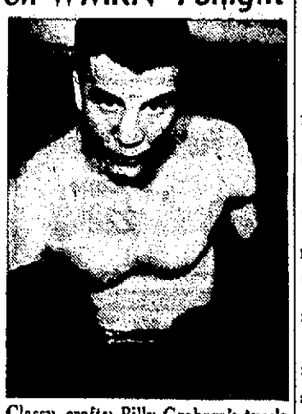
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 21—Manager Ben Chapman of the Phillies would like very much to acquire Cincinnati's errant shortstop, Eddie Miller, for the one thing he needs most to do is to plug a gaping hole between second and third if his club is to repeat last years fifth-place finish in the National league.

Ben was on the phone to Tampa three minutes after he learned that Miller, one of the most artful fielders in the game, had been put on the block after refusing to report to the Reds, but up to this point neither he nor his superiors has made any progress in the negotiations.

In the first place, all the Phils have been able to offer for Miller is money—not players—and if there is anything that is worth nothing in the National league this season it is money. In the second place, the Phils want Miller only on a "look-see" basis. They want to satisfy themselves that his throwing arm, which went lame last year, has fully recovered.

Two deadly poisons, sodium and chlorine, combine to form harmless table salt.

Hot Welter Scrap on WMRN Tonight



Classy, crafty Billy Graham's tussle tonight with Tippy Larkin (above), the pride of Garfield, N. J., should provide a line on whether he can be considered as a candidate for a crack at the welterweight crown. Their clash is scheduled for ten rounds at Madison Square Garden.

Graham, who calls New York his home town, is a superlative combination of boxer and puncher. His record is impressive. Only twice in 70 fights has he come out on the wrong end of the decision. A win over Tippy would lift him high in 147-lb. ranks.

Larkin, too, is a masterful boxer and fights like blue blazes. Known as the Garfield Gunner, he possesses a sharp left and a molar-loosening right. When he has his man set up, he can be a rattlesnake finisher.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial) at 10 p. m.

And remember, men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Grapplers Byers, Jones Win Bouts at Armory

June Byers took the second and third falls from Mae Weston last night to win the featured 90-minute match and Rufus Jones made things tough on both his opponent, Duke Keomuka, and the referee in taking the first and third falls of their match.

Weston won the first fall of the women's match with a body press and slam in 10 minutes. Byers came back and used the same tactics to win the second fall in 11 minutes and the deciding in 14.

Hard-headed Jones took the first fall in 20 minutes with a crab hold and the third in seven minutes with the same. The Duke sandwiched the second fall in using a Japanese hip lock to win in five minutes.

In the 10 minute preliminary Frank Sloat and Bill Bean grappled to a draw.

Four teams will be vieing for the crown. Springfield Y and Zanesville M. E. are also candidates.

Ex-Marion Shortstop Does O.K.—as Hurler

A former Marion shortstop is doing all right—as a pitcher.

Don Carlson, regular Marion shortstop during the 1944 season, pitched the final innings of the Los Angeles-Cleveland exhibition game at Fullerton, Calif., Wednesday and fanned four Indians in a row.

Carlson went to the California club here, local President W. Dexter Hazen said, but service in the Navy intervened. He reported to the Los Angeles club as a shortstop but apparently is considered a pitching prospect.

NEWARK BROWNS TO BEGIN WORK APRIL 4

The new manager of the Newark Browns, Eddie Dancisak, is scheduled to report in Newark April 1 and training for that Ohio-State league club will start April 4, according to the Newark Advocate.

Only catchers and pitchers will be present to greet the pilot. Most of the players who are to try for the squad are expected to check in by April 10.

Newark has a working agreement with the St. Lowis Browns and all of its players with previous professional experience will report to the Browns' central training camp at Pine Bluff, Ark. There they will be given a chance to qualify for a league with a higher classification. The camp opens March 24 and players will be classified by April 10.

Tigers, Tribe Arrange For Feller, Newhouser Battle

By The Associated Press

LAKELAND, Fla., March 21—American league fans faced the pleasant prospect today of witnessing several hair-raising hurling duels between the two greatest pitchers in baseball—Hal Newhouser of Detroit and Bob Feller of Cleveland.

This became evident when Newhouser, the game's premier southpaw, declared he was prepared to clash with Feller, baseball's number one righthander, as often as his regular pitching turn called for.

President Bill Veeck of Cleveland, never one to overlook a good thing, especially when it means filling the ball park, has already said he would ask Manager Lou Boudreau to pitch Feller against Newhouser whenever it could be arranged.

The slender curly-haired Newhouser, fully aware of the controversy raging as to who is the better moundsman, took exception to stories which charged he had sidestepped several encounters with Feller last year. They met twice and each emerged with a victory.

"I never ducked a meeting with Feller or with any other great pitcher in my life," said Hal, who in the past three years has won 80 games for the Tigers.

"Only last night I talked it over with O'Neill (Steve O'Neill, manager of the Tigers), and I told him I would pitch against Feller every game if he gave the word. Steve maps out my pitching program."

It was Newhouser's opinion that even if one were to beat the other six times in a row, it still would be impossible to determine who was the better hurler.

"You would have to consider several angles. For instance, who had the better hitting team behind him. Feller's batting support last year wasn't that one would call robust. He is, by far, the greatest pitcher I have ever seen."

IRISH JUNIORS SET FOR TOURNEY ACTION

A St. Mary Junior High school basketball team, weakened by injuries and restrictions, will meet London tonight in the tournament at Marysville for small fry cagers.

Two Irish regulars definitely won't appear in the lineup because of suspension and another, Bill Merchant, may not be sufficiently recovered from a bout with flu to make his appearance.

The game starts at 6 and games between Mechanicsburg and Plain City, Marysville and Delaware, Richwood and Worthington will follow.

An interesting sidelight to the tourney in which future high school talent will participate is that three of the high school squads from the cities entered went to the finals in the district tourney and one went to the finals in the regional.

St. Mary and Marysville went through to district finals and Plain City was stopped just one game from the state meet.

MARKET PIVOTALS MAKE SLIGHT GAIN

NEW YORK, March 21—Stock market pivotals edged forward on a selective basis today but many leaders remained in the losing division and dealings again were among the slowest of the past seven months.

Timid bidding by professionals was inspired by the thought that further technical recovery was a possibility. Public participation still was negligible as skepticism persisted over wage-price problems, the business outlook and international complications.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were recorded for Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Steel, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, American Telephone, Standard Oil (NJ), Kennecott, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe, Southern Railway and Great Northern Railroad. Backward were Dome Mines (on a cut dividend), Bell Aircraft, Allied Chemical, J. C. Penney, Montgomery Ward, Philip Morris, J. I. Case and Chesapeake and Ohio.

Three cases on the docket for possible consideration by the court are: Fremont Huntsman, as administrator of the estate of Franklin LeRoy Huntsman, against the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co.; Gertrude Schulman against Arden Richard Groll Jr. and Sarah Jane Groll and C. C. Rospert against Old Fort Mills, Inc., a corporation.

Members of the court are Charles Guernsey of Fostoria, George Middleton of Bellefontaine and Walter Jackson of Lima.

RADIO NEWS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 21 — The first day of spring in radio brings thoughts of summer replacements.

For instance, the Eddie Cantor show of NBC will be turned into a straight musical with singing Georgia Gibbs and the Dave Rose orchestra for the 14 weeks from June 26. For Durante and Moore on CBS it will be the drama series starring Pat O'Brien from July 4 until next fall.

The only other replacement definitely announced is for Phil Spitalny and his girl orchestra via CBS. Beginning July 13 the program will be that of Peggy Lee, singer, and Dave Barbour's orchestra, with Woody Herrmann acting as MC.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

THE rotund elderly physician who has been at my father's side in so many emergencies of the government intelligence service, especially during World War II, came into the room, smiling in his usual genial fashion at me.

Dicky waved a jaunty hand at Mary over the physician's shoulder.

"So long, Brat!" he said. "I'm going to man the portcullis—or is it the drawbridge?—or the moat? —outside, so that nobody disturbs this consultation. Ride herd on her, Doctor, with a stiff rein. She needs it!"

Had Told Everything

I knew that Dicky must have told Mr. Twitchell everything he himself knew about Mary's condition, but there was no hint of that knowledge in the old physician's face or eyes, and I knew that my husband must also have imposed secrecy on him.

As Dicky left the room, I drew a chair toward Dr. Twitchell. He took it and set it down close to Mary's bed. Then he sat down, and taking Mary's wrist in his fingers, with his wrist watch held before his eyes, as I had done, he counted her pulse. When he laid her wrist down, Mary smiled up at him.

"I suppose it's bounding from crag to crag like a blasted gazelle," she said, and the old physician chuckled.

"It isn't so bad," he answered non-committally. Then he turned to me as he rose and took his small case from the floor.

"Where is your bathroom?" he asked. "I suppose you have running hot water."

Indicated the Door

"Boiling, part of the time," I told him, and indicated the door.

"Good!" he commented, and disappeared into the bathroom, reappearing a few seconds later with a clinical thermometer in his hand, at the sight of which Mary groaned.

"Auntie Madge took my temperature a few minutes ago," she said dolefully.

Dr. Twitchell turned to me abruptly.

"What was it?" he asked.

"A degree and two tenths," I answered.

"H-m!" he commented. "It will be interesting to see what it is now. Did you take her pulse?"

"Yes."

"What was it?"

I told him, and he once more said "H-m!" It is a sort of trademark with him. He always sounds it when he is given any information about a patient.

Turned Back

Then he turned back to Mary.

"Under your tongue," he directed, and she opened her mouth docilely, closed her lips on the thermometer, and kept them closed until Dr. Twitchell removed it. Then they parted in pathetic eagerness while we both waited for the physician's verdict.

"Exactly one degree and two tenths," he said, "and your pulse has the same rate also as the earlier reading. But," he added slowly, "I would be willing to wager that both were higher before you reached home."

"You mean reached sanctuary," she said, but Dr. Twitchell was speaking as if he had not heard her.

"Tell me how you felt on the plane," he said, and I saw that he was watching her intently.

Felt Rotten

"Perfectly rotten," she told him. "First, I felt as if the plane were on fire, I was so hot, and then I'd shake with chills as if the blasted thing were flying over the north pole. And I couldn't eat anything. I wasn't plane-sick—never am—but I knew I would be if I put anything inside me."

"H-mm!" Dr. Twitchell turned to me. "What has she had since she arrived?"

"I am ashamed to tell you," I replied. "I did not know she had a temperature, and I ordered the snacks she used to enjoy—caviar and anchovy sandwiches and Camember cheese and crackers, with plenty of hot tea."

"Did she eat them?" Dr. Twitchell asked, and my mental barometer shot downward. Had the delicacies Mary so loved been injurious?
